INTRODUCTION

The present publication completes Volume I of the Checklist of Manuscripts Microfilmed for the Monastic Manuscript Microfilm Library, Saint John's University, Collegeville, Minnesota, representing the conclusion of microfilming operations in Austrian monastic and associated libraries. When, in 1967, the first part of Volume I was issued, it was expected that a subsequent part of the Checklist would be made available within a relatively short time; the expansion of MMML operations in Austria required, however, a delay in the appearance of this continuation.

The scope of our Austrian phase of filming operations (1964-1973) is demonstrated by the following figures. Nearly 32,000 codices, 15,000 Hefte (charters or other archival units), 100,000 papyri and numerous fragments from 74 libraries in Austria have been microfilmed. This material represents approximately 6,350,000 black-and-white exposures or some 12,700,000 pages of documents. Additionally, more than 42,000 color exposures were made of the miniatures and illuminations found in the manuscripts filmed.

The codex numbers listed in this publication are the present officially-recognized signatures of the manuscripts. Old numbers and shelf marks are supplied when it seems appropriate. In some cases manuscripts have no signature; this is noted by s.n. (= sine numero) or by a blank () in cases when, on the basis of consultation with other manuscripts in the collection, a number might have once existed but is no longer available. In some cases, descriptive notes on the contents of manuscripts are included. Catalogues and other tools of access to the collections are listed in the introductory paragraphs to the individual collections.

In virtually all cases each manuscript microfilmed for MMML occupies a separate reel of film, and each reel is designated by a project number, according to which it is deposited at MMML. These project numbers, also given in the following pages, permit easy location of the filmed codex at MMML. Information on the use of the microfilmed manuscripts and of the other research materials available at the facility can be found in the latest MMML Progress Report, available gratis to interested parties.

As microfilming operations are continued in other locales, further volumes of this Checklist may be expected. The use of this and other portions of the Checklist will permit scholars and students to know precisely the materials filmed for MMML.

For their assistance in the preparation of this publication I should like to thank MMML Secretary Mrs. Marianne Hansen, MMML Administrative Assistant Francis R. Swietek and MMML Manuscript Cataloguer Roland Behrendt, O.S.B. To our typists Joan Imdieke, Jim Curran, Rolande Voerding and Mary Ann Haws, and to our proofreaders Father Behrendt, Mrs. Haws and Deborah Hansen, I express my sincere appreciation.

Of the more than 1,100 manuscripts of this Benedictine monastic library, 779 have been filmed for MML. A Xerox copy of the handwritten catalogue by P. Jacob Wichner, O.S.B., Catalogus codicum manu scriptorum Admontensis, 1889, is also at MML. Of approximately 50 Admont codices sold in the 1930's, some are described by R. W. Hunt in "Manuscripts purchased from the Lyell Collection," The Bodleian Library Record IV (1952-53), 279-285, a copy of which is also in MML. Further information concerning studies of Admont manuscripts and the present whereabouts of former Admont codices can be found in Gerlinde Möser-Mersky, Mittelalterliche Bibliothekskataloge Österreichs, III. Band: Steiermark (Graz-Wien-Köln 1961) 8-15. Latin name: Cod. Admontensis.

ALTENBURG
Stiftsbibliothek

During its 800-year history, this Benedictine monastery was sacked 14 times and completely destroyed 4 times. It was rebuilt in the 18th century, but lost some 60 of its manuscripts during the Russian occupation during World War II. A total of 228 codices from its library were filmed for MML. A Xerox copy of the typed list by P. G. Schweighofer, Die Handschriften des Stiftes Altenburg, is also in MML. Latin name: Cod. Altenburgensis.

BREGENZ
Mehrerau Klosterarchiv

Mehrerau was settled by Benedictine monks from Petershausen in 1097, and was suppressed in 1806. In 1854 Cistercians expelled from Wettingen restored the monastery, and now it is the seat of the Cistercian abbey nullius of Wettingen-Mehrerau. The library contains some 100 manuscripts, of which 18 items were filmed for MML.

BREGENZ
Vorarlberger Landesarchiv

The Vorarlberger Landesarchiv contains many interesting items, among them Romanesque and Gothic works of religious art taken from the richest churches in the province. One of these is a crucifix from the former abbey church at Mehrerau, dating from the beginning of the sixteenth century. From its collection of documents and manuscripts 129 items were filmed for MML, including some originally from Mehrerau.

FIECHT
Benediktinerkloster St. Georgenberg

This Benedictine monastery, founded in 975 at Georgenberg, was destroyed by fire in 1705 and transferred to Fiecht in the following year. Suppressed in 1807, it was restored by Emperor Francis I in 1816. More than 200 manuscripts of its collection were filmed for MMML. A copy of a typewritten inventory by H. Bachmann, Inventar des Klosterarchivs (1938), was also made for MMML.

GERAS
Stiftsbibliothek

The six codices from the library of this Premonstratensian monastery were filmed for MML. This monastery, and the town in which it is situated, were completely destroyed by fire in 1620 during the Thirty Years' War. Included in the holocaust was the library's collection of manuscripts. The codices filmed for MML probably came from the nearby monastery of Pernegg, which was dissolved in 1782. There is no catalogue, and the manuscripts are without assigned codex numbers. Latin Name: Cod. Gerusiensis.

Steiermärkisches Landesarchiv

Actually begun in the early sixteenth century, this institution was officially founded in 1868. It contains nearly 2,000 volumes, of which 179 and around 15,000 charters and documents were photographed for MML. The only published guide to the collection is J. v. Zalin - A. Mell, Katalog der Handschriften, Kataloge des Steiermärkischen Landesarchives I. Joanneumsarchiv I. Handschriften (Graz-Leipzig 1898), which is supplemented by unpublished inventories filmed for MML.

GRAZ
Universitätsbibliothek

Founded in 1573 as the Bibliotheca Collegii Societatis Jesu Graecii, this library was refounded in 1775 as the general library of the State University. Of the more than 2,000 codices in the collection 1,217 were filmed for MMML, along with more than 40 papyrus fragments. The manuscripts were catalogued by Anton Kern, Die Handschriften der Universitätsbibliothek Graz 1 (Leipzig 1942) and 2 (Wien 1956), with a third volume (Nachträge und Register zusammengestellt von Maria Mairold; (Wien 1967) which includes a brief history of the library.

INNSBRUCK
Universitätsbibliothek

Founded in 1745, this collection contains 1,050 codices, of which 690 were photographed for MML. No detailed catalogue of the library exists apart from the Handschriften Zettelkatalog, a card index copied for MML. There is a collection of ten codices known as the Ris Bibliothek, Flaurling in the custody of the Universitätsbibliothek. Since these will most likely accrue to the Universitätsbibliothek, they have been, for our purposes, counted as a part of it.

Kärntner Landesarchiv

Of approximately 600 manuscripts comprising this state collection, 222 were photographed. The codices in the "Geschichtsverein" fond of the collection are catalogued in Menhardt, op. cit., pp. 184-254. Besides the "Geschichtsverein," there are other fonds belonging to the Landesarchiv -- the "Allgemeine Handschriften Sammlung" and the "Ständisches Archiv" -- which are not included in Menhardt's catalogue.

KLAGENFURT
Studienbibliothek

The manuscript collection of this public library consists largely of codices from two former Benedictine monasteries in Kärnten, Millstadt and Ossiach. Of the 300 manuscripts at the Studienbibliothek, 214 were filmed for MML. A Xerox copy of the catalogue by Hermann Menhardt in Handschriftenverzeichnisse österreichischer Bibliotheken. Kärnten, Band I: Klagenfurt, Maria Saal, Friesach (Wien, 1927), pp. 83-183, is also at MML.

KREUZENSTEIN (BURG) BEI LEOBENDORF

This castle dates from the twelfth century. It passed into the hands of the Wilczek family in 1739, who restored the castle and added its manuscript collection in the nineteenth century. The entire collection of 36 codices was photographed for MML. A number of the films were lost in the New York Post Office fire of December 19, 1967. These are marked with an asterisk and are not among the holdings of MML. The remaining ones have been catalogued at MML.

Maria Saal was once a collegiate chapter, destined to become a diocese. This never happened, however, since Klagenfurt, only six miles distant, developed and became more important. As a functional parish, Maria Saal escaped the monastic dissolution in Carinthia in 1782; today it remains a parish and retains its manuscript collection. All 45 codices of the parish were filmed for MML, and a Xerox copy of Hermann Menhardt's catalogue in Handschriftenverzeichnisse österreichischer Bibliotheken. Kärnten, Band I: Klagenfurt, Maria Saal, Friesach (Wien, 1927), pp. 264-287, is also at MML.

MICHAELBEUERN
Stiftsbibliothek

Although the history of this Benedictine monastery dates back to the eighth century, most of the older and more precious of its manuscripts, particularly the illuminated ones, were carried off to Vienna in 1806 and to Munich in 1815. Of its present collection, 126 codices were filmed for MML. A Xerox copy of the handwritten catalogue by P. Werigand Mayr, O.S.B., Catalogus mancriptorum in Bibliotheca Burae ad S. Michaellem, completed in 1950, is also at MML. Latin name: Cod. Michaelburanus.

NOVACELLA (NEUSTIFT), Italy.
 Convento dei Canonici Regolari (Augustiner-Chorherrenstift)

In the course of history the library of this Augustinian monastery was divided, and a portion of it is now held by the Universitätsbibliothek in Innsbruck. Both libraries now have the complete collection on film, and copies of 87 of its 147 codices were acquired for MMML. A copy of the card index to the collection was also made for MMML.

Rein is the oldest surviving Cistercian monastery in the world. It was sacked and demolished by the Turks in 1480, when many of its manuscripts also perished. Of the 206 codices found there, 158 were filmed for MML. They are catalogued by P. Anton Weis, "Handschriftenverzeichnis der Stiftsbibliothek zu Rein," in Xenia Bernadina, Pars secunda, 2 vols. (Wien, 1891), I.1-114, with an index on pp. 80-114. A Xerox copy of this catalogue is in MML. Latin name: Cod. Runensis.

Of the 1300 manuscripts of this Benedictine archabbey, 925 were photographed for MML. While the St. Peter collection still possesses size and depth, it suffered losses during the military and political upheavals in Europe between 1805 and 1821. While no catalogue to the collection exists as such, its handwritten shelf-list, Beschreibung der Handschriften des Stiftes St. Peter, which gives an account of the contents of each codex, has been Xeroxed for MML. In addition, a handwritten volume, Handschriftenkatalog des Stiftes St. Peter, which is actually an author, subject, and incipit index to the shelf-list, was filmed for MML. Latin name: Cod. S. Petrus Salisburgensis.

Half of the collection of the Salzburg University Library consists mainly of pre-seventeenth century manuscripts acquired from dissolved monasteries and from Italy. The other half is primarily made up of lectures by university professors, state ordinances, and local historical documents. Some manuscripts were transferred to Munich and Vienna between 1810 and 1816, but the library continued to exist, being known until 1927 as the Studienbibliothek. A total of 501 codices from the collection were filmed for MML. There is a catalogue in three parts, all of which have been Xeroxed for MML: 1) the Auctoren-Katalog, a card catalogue which has been bound into five volumes; 2) the Standorts-Katalog und Konkordanz der Alten und Neuen Signaturen, a bound handwritten volume, the first part of which is an abbreviated version of the shelf-list; 3) the Fach-Katalog, a partially typewritten subject catalogue. Latin name: Cod. Universitatis Salisburgensis.

SANKT PAUL IM LAVANTTAL (KÄRNTEN)
Stiftsbibliothek

Of the more than 2,000 codices found at present in the library of this Benedictine monastery, 1,043 were filmed for MML. The original collection of St. Paul manuscripts was dispersed when the monastery was dissolved in 1782, and only a few have been recovered by the library. Included in the present collection are codices from St. Blasien im Schwarzwald and from Spital am Pyhrn. The handwritten catalogue by P.B. Schroll, O.S.B., Catalogus codicum manusccriptorum ex monasteriis S. Blasii in Nigra Silva (in Germania) et Hospitalis ad Pryhum montem in Austria nunc in monast. S. Pauli in Carinthia, has been Xeroxed for MML, as has been a typewritten inventory prepared around 1950, Verzeichnis der Handschriften von St. Paul. Latin name: Cod. S. Pauli in Carinthia.

Haus-, Hof- und Staatsarchiv

Of the more than 2,000 manuscripts in this collection, 301 were selected for filming by MML because of their special monastic, historical and theological importance. They are catalogued in Constantin Edler von Böhm, Die Handschriften des kaiserlichen und königlichen Haus-, Hof- und Staatsarchivs, 2 vols (Wien, 1873-74).

The Mechitarist Order of Armenian Benedictines was established in 1701 by Mechitar of Sebaste. Their monastery in Vienna was founded in 1810, and there the Mechitarists have established in a relatively short time an impressive library of Armenian and related literatures. This collection includes more than 1300 manuscripts dating from the ninth to the nineteenth century. 1,181 of which were photographed for MML. There is a published catalogue in Armenian and in German: Katalog der armenischen Handschriften in der Mechitaristen Bibliothek in Wien, vol. I by Jacobus Dashian (Wien, 1895), vol II by Hamazasp Oskian (Wien, 1963). Latin name: Cod. Mechitaristarum Vindobonensis.

 Österreichische Nationalbibliothek

The history of the Österreichische Nationalbibliothek can be traced back to the literary holdings of Emperor Maximilian I (1493-1519), some of whose volumes passed into the imperial Hofbibliothek in Vienna in the sixteenth century. From uncertain beginnings the library progressed consistently, gathering rarities and reputation. Known until 1918 as the kaiserliche und königliche Hofbibliothek and since as the Österreichische Nationalbibliothek, its collection of some 30,000 manuscripts is one of the most important in the world. Approximately 14,000 codices in various languages were filmed for MML. For a listing of catalogues of Latin manuscripts in the collection, many of which are available at MML, see Paul O. Kristeller, Latin Manuscript Books Before 1600 (New York 1965) 222-223 and 281-282; to those listed there should be added: Otto Mazal and Fritz Unterkircher, Katalog der abendländischen Handschriften der Österreichischen Nationalbibliothek: Series nova (Neuerwerbungen), 4 vols. (Wien, 1963-71); Fritz Unterkircher, Die datierten Handschriften der Österreichischen Nationalbibliothek bis zum Jahre 1400 (Wien, 1969); and Fritz Unterkircher, Abendländische Buchmalereien: Miniaturen aus Handschriften der Österreichischen Nationalbibliothek (Graz, 1927).

Other areas of the manuscript collection are separately catalogued. For the Greek codices, see Herbert Hunger, Katalog der griechischen Handschriften der Österreichischen Nationalbibliothek, 2 vols. (Wien, 1961-69); Herbert Hunger, Katalog der griechischen Handschriften der Österreichischen Nationalbibliothek: Supplementum graecum (Biblos-Schriften, Bd. 15) (Wien, 1957); and Daniel Nessel, Catalogus sive recensio specialis omnium mancriptorum graecorum, nec non linguarum orientalium, Augustissimae bibliothecae Caesareae Vindobonensis, 6 vols. (Wien, 1690). For eastern collections, see Gustav Flügel, Die arabischen, persischen und türkischen Handschriften der kaiserlich-königlichen Hofbibliothek in Wien, 3 vols. (Wien, 1865-67); and Helene Loebenstein, Katalog der arabischen Handschriften der Österreichischen Nationalbibliothek: Neuerwerbungen, 1868-1968, Vol. 1 (Wien, 1970). The Hebrew codices are listed in Arthur Z. Schwarz, Die hebräischen Handschriften der Nationalbibliothek in Wien (Wien, 1925). The early German manuscripts are catalogued by H. Menhardt, Verzeichnis der altdeutschen literarischen Handschriften der Österreichischen Nationalbibliothek (Berlin, 1960-61). All are available at MML.

Latin name: Vindobonensis Palatinus.
